Thought Police

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

If you lived in Japan it was risky to have "dangerous thoughts". The "thought police" would crack you down. Similar bodies exist in all the police states of the world.

We are supposed to have freedom of thought in America — even freedom to speak our thoughts out loud. But that freedom is under attack here, as elsewhere. Some of the boys in Washington don't like "opinion-molding" organizations. They hunger and hone for a federal agency empowered to require all opinion-molding groups, including, as they say, "civic, fraternal, social, patriotic, recreational, religious and welfare" organizations to file reports of expenditures, receipts and names and addresses of contributors.

A church, as an opinion-molding organization, could be required to open its books to official inspection. Naturally, the thought-police Congressmen will say that they would require this of but a few church or religious groups. They would let most of them go free. But this is the same as saying, "We will police only those we don't like. Those whose views on social and political questions don't jibe with ours are the only ones we care to inspect—or intimidate."

If this plan were not set forth in black and white in the report of a House Committee on Campaign Expenditures, headed by Hon. Clinton Anderson, now Secretary of Agriculture, it would be hard to believe. But there it is, and he who runs may read.

A majority of the Anderson congressional committee thought the Committee for Constitutional Government, founded by the newspaper publisher, Frank Gannett, was an "opinion - molding" organization which the Anderson Committee could force to stand and be inspected. It caused Edward A. Rumely, the Executive Secretary of the C. C. G. to be indicted for failing to comply with its demands. The case has just been tried in the Federal Court in the District of Columbia before a jury.

The jury brought in a verdict of Not Guilty".

This sets the "thought police" advocates back on their heels, and should be of great interest to all newspapers, radio stations, book publishers, and all other opinion-molding organizations in the country.

The C. C. G. agreed that if it were spending money to elect or defeat anddidates, or parties, its operations would be subject to inquiry by Congress in order to protect the purity of elections. But it had spent no money for such purposes and produced its records to prove the fact. Having done that, the C. C. G. asserted that its private papers and records were protected from any further "searches and seizures" by the Anderson Committee under the Bill of Rights of the Constitution.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Palestine should become neither a Jewish State nor an Arab State, the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry declared in its report made public simultaneously last night in Washington and London. Admission of 100,000 Jews this year and virtual abrogation of the 1939 British White Paper with its restrictions on land holdings were recommended. Other suggestions included continuation of the present mandate until establishment of a United Nations trusteeship and resolute suppression of violence and terrorism by Jews or Arabs.

Although President Truman expressed pleasure over certain parts of the report ,it was felt in Washington that neither the Jews nor Arabs would be satisfied. In fact, Arab leaders threatened to combat the "invasion" of Jewish immigrants and Zionists expressed their opposition. Bartley C. Crum, a member of the committee, predicted that a directive authorizing the entry of 100,000 Jews into Palestine would "issue forthwith."

Italy will be permitted to retain most of southern Tyrol despite Austrian claims, the Foreign Ministers tentatively agreed at their conference in Paris, but they were as wide apart as ever on what to do about Trieste and the Venezia Giula area. It was decided to invite Yugoslavia and Italy to present their cases anew.

Britain tried to meet French desires by suggesting internationalization of either the Ruhr or both the Ruhr and the left bank of the Rhine for fifty years. Secretary Byrnes' proposed four-power treaty to keep Germany disarmed was favorably received in the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan, has been formally evacuated by Russian troops, the Tabriz radio reported. Premier Stalin declared that while the world must remain vigilant against reaction it had "no reason to doubt" that Russia would remain steadfast in her devotion to international peace and security.

PLAN RETREATMENT OF PENNA. HIGHWAYS

First Part of Oiling Program To Get Underway This Month

BUCKS MILEAGE 117.61

HARRISBURG, May 1 — The first part of the 1946-47 Retreatment Program of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, covering 4007 miles, will begin early in May, Secretary Ray F. Smock announced today.

A total of $4,211,610 has been allocated to cover the cost of this one phase of the Department's summer work which includes labor and equipment costs, 14,425,700 gallons of bituminous material and 564,987 tons of "chips" which have been contracted for.

The second program will cover at least an additional 400 miles at an additional proportionate cost.

As the "oiling season" comes into its own, motorists wince at the thought of encountering a treated stretch of oiled road and will drive many miles out of their way to avoid a newly oiled section. However, present day retreatment operations have been improved over a period of years so that delays and inconveniences are minimized. In most cases a road can be opened to traffic the same day or the following day without any danger of picking up stones or tar or of damage to vehicles. Signs are posted well in advance of such work so that the motorist will know it is the intention of the Department to "oil" the road within a short time.

Department forces, ordinarily assigned to general maintenance operations, will perform this work in 66 counties of the State.

Bucks County's mileage will be 117.61.

Urge Electric Current Conservation In Crisis

Philadelphia Electric Co. has issued a call to its customers in a five-county area to conserve electric power, as an aid in the crisis brought about by the long soft coal strike.

It is pointed out that the request for voluntary economizing of electric power does not mean there will be a "brown-out" such as took place during the war period.

The company has been studying the need for coal budgeting since 400,000 soft coal miners went on strike. About 75 per cent of the electric power manufactured by the company is created through bituminous coal, mostly from Pennsylvania fields. The other 25 per cent is from the hydro-electric plant at Conowingo, Md.

EXPECT GOOD "CROP" WAR "VET" FARMERS

Agriculture Committee Is Formed To Aid Veterans In Rehabilitation

COUNTY LEADERS AID

Prospects for a crop of war veteran-farmers in Bucks County looked bright this week with the announcement of formation of the Bucks County Veterans Agriculture Committee to aid local veterans in rehabilitation or training on the farm.

Including county leaders in agriculture and education, the committee will bring to disabled and ablebodied veterans of Bucks County who want to go on the farm, practical advice, aid and supervision in actual farm work and in agricultural courses under the Veterans Administration's on - the - job training program.

In announcing formation of the Committee, H. J. Inman, chief of rehabilitation and training in the VA Regional Office, expressed confidence that not only war veterans but county agriculture as well would stand to gain from its work.

"In training to be farmers," Inman said, "there is a gap difficult to bridge between the energetic and intelligent desire of those veterans who want to be good farmers, and the farm lore and judgment that can come only from long experience. The Committee is admirably equipped to help Bucks County veterans learn the arts of farming, while the government helps them bridge the difficulties of initial low income."

Several veterans have already registered for farm training in Bucks County, according to Lewis R. Good, agriculture training officer for the Veterans Administration.

Members of the Bucks County Veterans Agriculture Committee include Charles H. Boo[illegible], county superintendent of schools; Samuel L. Horst, county advisor for vocational agriculture; Robert C. Jones, Production Credit Administration; Chester P. Hoenstine, Farm Security Agency; Joseph W. Hallowell, Production and Marketing Administration; Lawrence D. Haag, Soil Conservation Service; Mahlon Stage, master, Upper Bucks County Pomona Grange; Earle Yerkes, master, Lower Bucks County Pomona Grange; Richard J. Murray, county director of Veterans Affairs; Lewis R. Good, training officer, Veterans Administration; William F. Greenawalt, county Agriculture Extension agent.

Fires at Driver; Claims Unfair Delivery of Coal

A man was shot at but escaped being hit at Bristol Terrace yesterday. The shooting occurred because, it is said, the man accused of doing the shooting alleged that he was being treated unfairly in the delivery of coal.

Joseph Logan, 56, of 1100 Court H, Bristol Terrace H, is charged with doing the shooting, while Allen Bell, 35, of 125 Wood street, is the man who escaped being hit by the bullet.

Both men are colored.

Logan was taken ino custody by Chief Bucks County Detective Anhony Russo, Corporal Evans and Trooper Kutney, of Langhorne barracks, Penna. State Police. He is scheduled to be given a hearing sometime oday.

The authorities claim that Bell was driving out of Court J when he found Logan standing in the center of the roadway, and before he knew what was happening Logan pointed a .38 revolver at him and fired. The bullet struck the windshield of the car on the left side near the center, but did not strike Bell.

Logan, in talking with police, intimated the story of unfairness in the delivery of coal. Bell is the driver of a coal delivery truck. Logan claims that Bell tried to run over him. These charges Bell denies.

START POURING CONCRETE ON NEW SUPER HIGHWAY

Work of Laying Permanent Section Above Tullytown Starts Today

MAY OPEN JULY 10TH

Completed One - Half of Fallsington Ave., Tullytown, Yesterday

Workmen yesterday afternoon completed one-half of the new section of highway which traverses Fallsington avenue, Tullytown, and which will connect the present Route 13 with the new section to the north of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

This morning work of concreting one-half of the new section of Route 13 north of the railroad got under way. The entire portion of highway now under contract is expected to be completed and open to the public by July 10th.

The Fallsington avenue strip which was completed yesterday afternoon is a 12-foot width. This carries a temporary section across the railroad overpass, and is the route which motorists traversing Route 13 will use when the high bridge above Tullytown, recently condemned, is closed to traffic.

Approximately 75 workmen are engaged on the project. Some have been doing the rough grading on the new permanent section of Route 13 north of the railroad, and this morning a crew commenced pouring concrete on one-half of that length of the highway. This permanent section extends from the overpass in Tullytown borough to the point of contact with the present Route 13 2½ miles above Tullytown. With completion of half of the permanent stretch, workmen will return to Fallsington avenue to finish the other portion of that concrete job. It is anticipated that the other half of Fallsington avenue will be laid on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, that thoroughfare being open to the public 10 days later.

The highway passing Tullytown, now in course of construction, is part of a proposed super-highway extending from the intersection of Route 13 and Rogers Road to Morrisville.

The two projects in the Tullytown section total approximately 3½ miles.

ONE MAN'S OPINION - - -

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Soy bean shoes are out in several sizes - - - and delicious with catsup.

When they wear thin you can get them re-soled or put them in the refrigerator - - - might as well have something in there.

For a large famfly take 12D if you can get them.

I have asked OPA to let me know whether the ceiling price on beans or shoes applies and I will let you know - - - if OPA lives that long.

Henry Wallace says if OPA ends we will have inflation. It seems this is not inflation we have now - - - it is more of a skeptical illusion.

Real inflation is when you have nothing but money - - - and you can't eat that until the Treasury starts making it out of soy beans.

Earl Browder has gotten away from all this. Mr. Browder headed for Moscow to find out why the American Communists, who "have no connection with Moscow," dumped him.

There is nothing Moscow can do about it, of course, except possibly everything.

NOT A TAXPAYING ANIMAL

Once in a while there comes from government a suggestion that is amazing for its attempt to seek out justice.

Roy Blough, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury, told of an instance of this type when he said that the administration was considering an individual income tax plan wherein low and high income years could be averaged.

Mr. Blough cautioned his audience, a conference of the Controllers Institute of America meeting in New York City, against trying to read a Treasury position into his remarks, since many of the matters are still in the study stage, and he said he considered major tax revisions as still some distance in the future.

But he told of one proposal for an income tax plan which would permit a carryback and carryover of unused exemptions and would prove of great aid to millions of families in low income brackets. He also said that there were many individuals, such as authors, actors, professional men and businessmen who often work for many years for a moderate return and finally make a "killing" in some one or two years.

While their income on the average is moderate, it extends for the particular year or two to the higher brackets and they may derive relatively little from it, he said.

The government might be able to work out a system which would eliminate the latter objection. In view of the fact that it succeeded in simplifying income tax returns for millions of persons after having befuddled them for years with blanks that a Blackstone could hardly have explained, one cannot underestimate the ability of some of these Treasury officials.

But the suggestion, until people become accustomed to it, might make some a bit fearful of a government bureau which peers into one's income over long stretches of years and levies taxes on the basis of the average. Man knows that he must pay taxes as he knows that he must die, but he is not naturally a taxpaying animal.

farming, the work of the Committee will be suited to the needs of individual veterans.

Training either as farm proprietor or as farm employee is provided in the program, which in both types of training includes both school courses and supervised practical work on the farm.

Besides payment of his school tuition, the non-disabled veteran may receive subsistence allowances ranging up to a maximum of $65 a month if single and up to $90 a month if married. Benefits for disabled veterans will vary with the individual, and range beneath a higher maximum. Such payments would be supplemental to wages paid by the farmer who hires the veteran as a trainee. At present farm wage scales, the supplementary subsistence pay will in most cases be less than the maximum, but will be identical in amount with that paid veterans undertaking other types of training leading to similar income objectives.

Veteran farm-proprietors, operating farms as owners or tenants or under any management or share agreemnt which protects the welfare of the veteran, will receive a minimum of 300 hours of instruction per year. For each week of the year, the veteran will receive four hours of instruction in school and two hours of instruction on his farm.

Senior high schools in Bucks County are approved to conduct the institutional training phase of the program under the direction of the county vocational education department, and the Veterans Administration will offer contracts to school districts which provide the training. On-the-farm instruction will be regarded as laboratory work.

Inside Your Congress

Under the "thought police" doctrine a college or a newspaper might be bludgeoned into silence by public officials who don't like what was said by some professor on the faculty, or editor on the staff.

The presiding judge, Hon. James M. Proctor, instructed the jury that the word "political" has two meanings. One refers to principles and policies of government, "activity of a citizen or of an organization of citizens in promoting matters of that sort is, . the right of every citizen, and to impair it would be to abridge his constitutional right of free speech and free discussion of such matters. Then there is another sort of activity, that which has to do with support or opposition to a candidate for public office or of a political party. . That is the sort of activity which the (congressional) committee was authorized to investigate and only that sort."

This should clarify much muddy thinking on the word "political" and give courage to all Americans to speak their minds on public questions.

Quartet To Be Featured At First of 3 Concerts

NEW HOPE, May 1 — Featured in the first of a series of three concerts to be given on the first three Friday evenings in May at the Bucks County Playhouse, will be the newly formed Orlando Quartet of New York City. Principally products of the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, the quartet consists of Noah Bielski, violin; Sol Ovcharov, violin; Albert Falcove, viola; and Klaus Adams, cello.

Joseph Levine, brilliant protege of Josef Hoffman, former assistant conductor of the Philadelphia Opera Company, and pianist of the Philadelphia Orchestra, will join with the quartet at the piano in playing the famous Brahms F Minor Quintet.

On May 10th, a chamber ensemble directed by Mr. Levine, will play the Concerto Grosso by Vivaldi; the beautiful "Die Forellen" (The Trout) Quintet for piano, violin, viola, cello, and double bass, by Franz Schubert; Samuel Barber's "Adagio;" "Acussin and Nicolette" by Ravel; and the "St. Paul Suite" by Gustav Holst.

May 17th will bring two brilliant young stars to the playhouse who are destined to shining heights in the music world. Featured in a duo recital with Joseph Levine at the piano will be the attractive young lyric soprano of Philadelphia, Lois Marcus, and the young New York violinist Beri Senofsky, who with his dazzling technique is hailed by Galamian as a future great.

Dougherty's Harriman IX Wins Over Fleetwings, Five to One

The Hibernians hit the ball hard behind scoreless pitching to win its Suburban League opener over the Bristol Processing Co., 10-0, on Leedom's field before a large crowd last evening.

"Herm" Piuma and Frank Kryven who divided the hill chores for Manager Joe Kervick, blanked the Bristol Processing Company team with four safe hits. Kryven allowed one hit in the two innings he pitched.

Leading the "Hiboes" twelve-hit assault was "Chuck" Klein who had a home run and single.

George Dougherty's Harriman nine started off its 1946 season in the Bristol Suburban League loop with a 5-1 victory over brother Joe's Fleetwings team, last evening on the high school diamond.

The Harriman team got off to a good start in the first inning when Wendall Tazik opened with a home run. It was Tazik's first appearance at the plate since he joined the Army Air Forces four years ago. He also had a single to his credit and got on base via an error.

The 'Wingers were off in their playing, five errors helping the sixth warders in their scoring. Harriman played errorless ball with "Sugar" Sallustio doing outstanding work at third base.

"Hal" Shackleton hurled for Harriman with "Sammy" Kershaw doing the heaving for the losers.

Bristol High Nine Rallies to Win, 4-3

FALLSINGTON, May 1—After being shutout without a run or hit for four innings, Bristol High rallied in the closing frames to nose out Fallsington high, 4-3, yesterday afternoon, and moved into a deadlock with Langhorne for second place in the Lower Bucks County League.

The old-fashioned "squeeze" play annexed the win for Bristol. In the seventh inning, France drew a pass, and stole second. He took third on a fly by Morrell and crossed the plate when Natale laid down a bunt.

An error enabled Bristol to tie the score in the sixth when Murphy was hit with a pitched ball and stole second. Mama hit to Pezza who dropped the ball, allowing Murphy to score.

Andy Kish did a wonderful job on the hill for Fallsington as he held Bristol to a pair of hits, one of which was a triple by France which helped to account for the pair of runs in the fifth. Earl Wagner had 12 strikeouts for Bristol and gave up three hits, one of which was a three-bagger from the bat of Dick Ellis.

CHALK DEADLOCK FOR LEGION AND S.-K. CO.

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 1—Schutte & Koerting and the Bristol Legion battled to a 1-1 deadlock in the season's Bristol Suburban League opener at Echo Beach.

Mrs. A. K. Fisher, president of Schutte-Koerting, threw out the first ball and was presented with a bouquet of flowers in appreciation of her aid to the ball team. She was given the first batted ball as a gift.

"Mike" Peterpaul hurled for the Legion while "Jack" Kennedy pitched for the iron-workers. Schutte-Koerting had two hits while the Legion boys had three.

A walk to Bob Moore and a single by Burns followed by a walk to Peterpaul and error by Fareno gave the Legion its run, although Burns attempted to score and was put out at the plate.

Schutte-Koerting scored its tally in the first inning when McIntyre singled, stole second and scored on Lauer's hit.

EDGELY DEFEATS 1945 'CHAMPS,' BADENHAUSEN

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, May 1—Edgely jumped on Paul Dean early in the contest last evening on the Bensalem field as the Edgely A. C. won its first Bristol Suburban League tilt, 8-4, defeating the last season's champions, Badenhausen.

The Edgelyites hopped on Dean for two runs in the first and three more in the second. When Dean walked Leigh to start the third, he was replaced by Rigby who finished.

In the second inning, "Tommy" Purcell opened with a home run and the next batter, Al Doster, also slapped a four-bagger.

Edgely had nine hits with Ralphie Linke getting three out of four.

REDSKINS ARE BACK IN RACE FOR PENNANT

LANGHORNE, May 1—The Langhorne Redskins jumped back into the race for the Lower Bucks County pennant yesterday afternoon, scoring a 4-1 verdict over Bensalem nigh on Playwicky field.

The Langhorne team bunched four of its six hits in the fifth to cop the decision. Luken singled to open the frame and stole second. He was sacrificed to third by Fizzano and scored on a hit by Schneider, who stole second on the first pitch. Hits by Robinson and Myers followed and netted three runs.

An error by Fizzano after Lukens' throw had nailed Hansen at third base gave the Bensalem team its tally.

"Charlie" Martindell limited the losers to four hits and fanned seven batters.

Discusses the Ethical Proprietary Medicines

ANDALUSIA, May 1—H. Osborne Walton, representing a prominent drug firm in Philadelphia, spoke to Bensalem Rotary Club members in King Hall last evening on the subject "Ethical Proprietary Medicines."

Mr. Walton differentiated between such medicines and "patent medicines," informing that those of the ethical proprietary type are advertised in detail only to physicians and druggists. In explanation of the fairly high costs of the ethical proprietary preparations, he informed that a large amount of the so-called profit goes back into research.

As part of the explanation of early high costs he informed how three weeks supply of penicillin provided several years ago to an employee of a drug manufacturer was valued at a quarter of a million dollars. "Recently, sufficient penicillin for my daughter cost $8," commented the speaker in showing how research and more plentiful supply had greatly lowered the price.

Theodore Studenmeyer presided at the dinner meeting. Guests were Le Roy Edwards, of Langhorne; and Otto Grupp, Jr., of the Bristol club.
